_include_disable_dialog_wproofreader

There are two modes that WProofreader provides for text proofreading: as you type in the editable area and in a separate dialog. There is a list of cases where you may want or required to disable this mode and keep only as you type.

In order to disable the dialog mode, you need to add the actionItems option to config of WProofreader with the next values as follows:

actionItems: ['ignoreAll', 'settings', 'toggle'],
