Monitoring system health

You can implement a simple mechanism of the system health monitoring using standard Web API commands and a 3rd party monitoring tool, for example, Uptime Robot. To do so, create a set of Web API requests such as check, status, and others to your installation of WebSpellChecker that will be sent by a selected monitoring tool with the desired frequency. If something goes wrong, you will receive a notification.